

Dearest Tanuj,

I know you've been really busy lately and we haven't been able to meet much, but I just wanted to write this so you have it with you.

I didn't think I would meet you when this year started, but I'm honestly so grateful to the universe for bringing us together before the end of this year. I'm really glad that I get to start my 2026 with you, my baee ❤️

I love you for who you are - and for who you'll become in the future. You are honestly one of the best things that has ever happened to me. You're my warmest hugs, my comfort, and my go-to place when I need to feel okay.

Yesterday, even when I was sitting in TCS, all I could think about was going home. And every time I thought of home, all I could see was your face. Somewhere along the way, you became my home. I think I finally understand that home doesn't always have to be a place - sometimes, it can also be a person. And with you, I feel like any place can feel like home.

I want you to know that I'll love you in all your versions -when you're busy, sleepy, tired, sick, happy, or anything in between. No matter how your day looks or what you're dealing with, my love for you stays the same.

I also want to say this honestly - if I ever bothered you on your busy days by asking to meet, I'm sorry. I never wanted you to feel torn or guilty between work and me. From now on, I want you to focus on your work on those days without any pressure or guilt. I trust you and I understand how important your responsibilities are.

You don't have to feel bad about being busy, and you don't have to compensate for it either. Just knowing that we're okay, that we're still us, is more than enough for me.

I'm so proud of you - truly. You are my favourite thing about this year, someone I deeply admire. You're the comfiest and warmest person in my life right now, and being with you feels easy and safe.

I don't know if we'll get to meet on the first day of 2026, so I wanted to say this - happy holidays and a very happy new year. I hope the coming year brings you more joy, peace, success, wealth, good health, and everything you deserve. More than anything, I just want to see you happy - smiling from your heart.

I always want to stay with you, admiring you, supporting you, and being someone you can come home to.

I think I can say this now without hesitation - you are my home.

Love you to the moon and back Aimee ❤
